OUR APOLOGY.

A card published in Saturday's Democrat, signed by Ida M. Keam, in reference to an editorial in our last issue is not worthy of notice, still it contains such rank misrepresentations of the editor of this sheet we feel it our duty to reply briefly. The lady demands an apology and we are of course bound to make one, so here goes. We deny publishing the article referred to through any "selfishness or malice" whatever. We deny calling several times to secure the printing of the book, only once and then sent for by the lady. We deny most emphatically of calling the lady or anyone else connected with this work fakirs. Webster gives the definition of, "fakir" as a "begging monk," and surely we would not and could not use such a word in reference to this or any other lady, but if she insists that we called her one we most humbly apologize.

We do not care to get into a controversy with anyone, especially a lady, and will now let the matter drop, but to show that we meant no harm and that the article was only published for the public good we reprint it below:

UNDER THE CLOAK OF CHARITY.

When you see our merchants taken in almost daily by fake advertising schemes and our citizens in general by fakirs who come here getting up entertainments under the cloak of sweet charity, but in reality for themselves, we think the time has arrived to call a halt. For instance, our merchants have been visited in past ten days by a solicitor for advertisements to go into a catalogue, which will contain nothing but the ads. with a verse of poetry between each. Our merhants paid at the rate of $20 per page for twenty pages. This book is represented as being gotten out for the benefit of the hospital fund, the solicitor getting 80 per cent. and the hospital 20, so we are informed. The manuscript for 900 copies of this book is now in the hands of a Lexington printer. If this is not an imposition on our merhants we would like for some one to show us. It recalls the old sayin, "you can fool some of the people all of the time, you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time.'

Then again, a lot of fakirs come here and get the ladies interested in getting up some kind of an entertainment for the hospital or some other charitable purpose. They spend about ten days in our midst, the ladies not only go to the expense of getting their children costumes for the entertainments but work themselves almost to death to make the entertainment a success, and after the show the strangers pocket the largest part of the proceeds and gone with our money forever, the hospital fund getting but a small per centage.

We are in favor of the Paris Hospital, we are in favor of home people getting up entertainments for the fund, and we are willing to help and boost along anything that will keep all of the money at home, whereby the hospital fund will get the money, but we are opposed to our people being imposed upon by a lot of traveling fakirs who go the rounds and make a living under the cloak of charity, it is nothing more or less than an outrage upon our citizens.

TAKE TIME BY THE FORELOCK.

Next month Paris will be the host of a large number of important and influential men of this State. The occasion will be the State Conclave of Knights Templar. A large number of these chivalrous Knights will bring their wives, daughters and sweethearts along with them. Therefore it behooves every citizen of Paris to begin now in cleaning up their premises and keep them ciean. Let the city fathers see that our streets will have the appearance of being swept with a new broom every morning. We want these gallant Knights to leave our city with the impression that Paris is not only the best and prettiest city of the fourth class in our State, but that it is the cleanest. If everybody will take some pride in this matter and each do their duty, it will be an easy matter to so convince the visitors. A bushel of lime, a white wash brush, a few gallons of paint for fronts of houses, tences, etc.. and a little labor, would tell the tale.

THE MAN WITH THE MUCK RAKE.

In his speech at the laying of the corner stone of the office building of the House of Representatives, President Roosevelt cited John Bunyan's man with the muck rake, as an illustration of the magazine and newspaper writers now engaged in criticising men in public life. The President placed special emphasis on the fact that Bunyan's man always looked down, and could not be induced to look up; and he stated that critics of public men were very much

The President's illustration is not very apt. In the first place, critics of PARIS, today are too frequently compelled to look down instead of up, because they Asparagus, etc. We employ no agents. find more down than up to write about. In the second place, critics of to-day do have ideals of what public men should be, and failing too frequently to find these ideals, have to account for their disappointment. In the third place, they do give credit where credit is due, but like all people have at last had the scales taken from their eyes, so that they see public men as they are.

Critics of to-day, generally speaking, are not like the] man with the muck rake. The fact of the matter is they are much the same as the critics of yesterday; but the public men have changed, and to such an extent that they no longer enjoy the confidence of the people as public men used to.

Sixteen women buried alive, 16 bandets at the stake, and the whole country in an uproar is the tale of a week's riotous doings in the Macedonian village of Ivon, east of Monastir, Grace. Fighting had been going on for several months in that section between the Greek inhabitants of Ivon and Bulgarian bands that had been infesting the neighborhood. The climax finally came when the Bulgarian chief, Woldse. shot and killed five villagers and a young woman, as they were retuining

To revenge the foul deed, 16 of the residents of Ivon started out after Woldse and his band. Woldse eluded the posse and returned to the village the very night the citizens had left to look for him. Is Disease a Crime?

published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weak-nesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feets. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Popular Paris Boy Succumbs to the White Plague..

A telegram, dated April 20, was received here Sunday morning from Mrs. Carl Crawford announcing the death of George T. Lyons at Tucson, Arizona, on that date. Mr. Lyons until a year ago enjoyed good health and but recently discovered that he was suffering with tuberculosis. He was advised to go to Ariozna and three weeks ago left Paris for Tucson. It is supposed that the long tiresome trip weakened him so that he was unable to recuperate from the prostration. Mrs. Carl Crawford, of this city, who had been there for some months for her health, went at once to give her brother Parisian all the assistance in her power, was at his bedside when he passed away. She will accompany the remains home which are expected to reach here about Thursday.

George T. Lyons was about 35 years of age, an enterprising and successful by the score. He was an uncompro-Democratic Committee.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Maria Lyons and three brothers, Harry, Albert and Frank Lyons, all of whom reside in this city.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

Money Afterwards Found Where They Had Secreted It.

Little after noon hour, on Saturday, Dick English, a white boy, porter at W. P. Hume & Co.'s grocery on Second street, came riding up Main street at breakneck speed and notified Chief of Police Hill and Jailer Judy that Hume & Co.'s grocery had been robbed of a big sack of money.

He described the robber and told them in what direction he took. The officers started in hot pursuit, some of them going as far as Cynthiana, but no trace of the robber could be found.

W. P. Hume, in looking around the premises Sunday morning found the sack of money carefully secreted under a step in the rear of his grocery. The sack contained nearly one hundred dollars, which was intact with the exception of ten dollars which the thief had taken out before hiding his booty.

A Brooksville paper has the following to say on his departure from that city:

"Rev. James Cusack, who has been pastor of the St. James Catholic Church in Brooksville for the past 11 years, preached his farewell sermon on last Sunday; that his kind and gentle disposition had won the hearts of Stoner and Capt. James M. Rogers the his congregation was certainly proved by their emotion during his sermon. Each seemed to feel they were losing a personal friend. When you consider breeding, individuality, and the kind of colts he gets, iclass mules. Sunland Bourbon's fee is lower than any stallion we know of. If you want a fine team, a good road horse, a high actor, all having speed breed your mare to Sunland Bourbon. It is well-known he gets the above kind.

Sunland Bourbon made quite a reputation last year as a great road horse, and those who saw him go now know that his record is no measure of his speed. TERMS:—$20 to Insure a Mare with Foal.
